

After listening to my local channels and all of the advertisements and informercials I hear, I would like to know where all the congressmen live and not only that, why they have the time to fight for a cause something such as this? I would think if I were going to fight for anything to make a point, I would fight for a cause such as, cell phone drivers. Trust me., I have a cell phone but it appalls me to see people driving down the road listening to a cell phone. What is up with the xm radio? I would much rater be behind someone listening to the radio. I ride down the road and I see people and I wonder what the hell they ever did without a cell phone. All I can say is they are sick and tired of listening to the same old crap on the local radio and are on the phone because they don't have xm radio to listen too. This is the only thing I can figure out.
